

Nadella Group acquires PL S.r.l.

On April 6, 2011 the company PL S.r.l., located in Carugate (<http://plrettifiche.com/>), joined the Nadella Group: the group leader, Nadella S.r.l., acquired 100% of PL corporation stock and the merger and full integration of PL activities in Nadella Group is expected by year-end.

PL is specialized in precision machining, especially grinding and lapping. For many years PL devotes much of its production capacity to supply components to the Nadella Group, on which he has developed know-how of absolute value.

PL is equipped with an efficient machinery division, has qualified human resources and many years of experience and state-of-the-art control system and quality assurance. PL is certified UNI EN ISO 9001:2008 since 2001.

With this investment, Nadella Group strengthens its technical and production activities and responds both to the development of the market and to the growing demand for service and quality: therefore our customers will be able to satisfy their needs in the quickest and more qualified way.